

Michigan Recycler Launches Nonferrous Brokerage

GLR Advanced Recycling (Roseville, Mich.) has launched GLR America, a nonferrous metals brokerage division.

The division will specialize in buying and selling truckload or full containerload quantities of nonferrous scrap, including mixed nonferrous metals, in the United States and internationally. It offers flexible payment options to help suppliers manage the economic impact of COVID-19, GLR says. Jay Mentzel, vice president of metals for GLR Advanced Recycling, heads the division.
